

Joseph Murray Ince

View in Radnorshire, Wales

Reference: 11026

Dimensions:

Height: 28 cm / 11 in

Width: 43.80 cm / 17¼ in

KT531

Signed l.r.: J.M. INCE 1839, signed and inscribed verso in pen and brown ink: View in Radnorshire/J. Ince, watercolour over traces of pencil with scratching out and stopping out

28 x 43.8 cm.; 11 x 17 inches

This beautiful watercolour shows the influence of David Cox very clearly.

Ince studied with David Cox in Hereford before moving to London in 1826 when he started to exhibit at the Royal Academy. He moved first to Cambridge and then in the 1830s back to Presteigne in Radnorshire, where he was based for the rest of his life.